

Day 7 — What Friends Eat (Food)

Module: Three Friends (Primary) · Time: 30 min

Goal

Children learn that the three friends have food preferences — and that variety matters.

Materials

- Drawing paper
- Optional: pictures of varied foods (rice, lemon, salt, chili, bitter gourd, banana)

Flow

Settle + chant + song (5 min)

Story (10 min)

“Each friend likes different foods!”

Vāta loves: warm food, smooth food, oily food. Examples: warm rice with ghee, soup, milk.

Pitta loves: cool food, sweet food (in good measure), not too spicy. Examples: fruit, milk, cucumber.

Kapha loves: light food, spicy food, less sweet. Examples: warm spice tea, ginger, vegetables.

“But we ALL have ALL THREE friends — so we need ALL kinds of food. A meal with VARIETY makes all three friends happy.”

The six tastes (introduce quickly): - Sweet (sweet rice) - Sour (lemon) - Salty (salt) - Spicy/pungent (ginger) - Bitter (bitter gourd, neem) - Astringent (banana skin, beans)

“A traditional Indian thali has ALL six tastes — that’s clever cooking!”

Activity (10 min)

Each child draws a “balanced plate” with examples of as many tastes as they can include.

Show + chant (5 min)

Homework

- At dinner tonight, count how many of the 6 tastes are on your plate. Tell us tomorrow.

Differentiation

- Tier up: Make a “thali” drawing with 6 sections.
- Tier down: Just remember: variety on your plate makes the friends happy.
